EASTERN NEWS.

[BY TELEGRAPH TO THE OREGONIAN.]

Sprague & Co.'s Affairs.

PROVIDENCE, Oct. 31.—Maturing Sprague paper to the amount of $50,000, went to protest to-day. Senator Sprague, of the A. & W. Sprague Manufacturing Co., arrived this afternoon. It is expected that his presence will aid the committee in maturing propositions to be submitted to the meeting to be held to-morrow. Nothing is known positively of the propositions to be submitted.

The Bank Commission to examine the affairs of Sprague & Co., say they consider the assets at $19,495,247, and the liabilities $11,475,443. They recommend placing (by mortgage) the entire business in the hands of three trustees, who shall give notes for the indebtedness, having three years to run, at 13 1-10 interest. The counsel for the firm said that deeds of trust were being made out to Gov. Henry Howard, Rufus Waterman and ex-Gov. Smith, and if satisfactory to creditors, the firm would go into bankruptcy.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., Nov. 1.—Senator Sprague has retired from the Presidency of the A. & W. Sprague Manufacturing Company. Amasa A. Sprague is designated to fill the place. The mortgage deed has been prepared for the purpose of securing all the property assets, private and corporate, for the benefit of creditors, agreeable to the principle suggested in the report. The meeting of the creditors will be called at an early day.

Laborers Thrown out of Employment.

OSWEGO, Oct. 31.—Hoyt, Sprague & Co.'s woolen mills at Oswego close to-morrow until further notice, throwing five hundred operatives out of employment.

PORTSMOUTH, N. H., Oct. 31.—Four hundred workmen were discharged from the navy yard to-day.

NEW YORK, Oct. 31.—In the feather factory in West Hoboken, on account of the scarcity of money, two hundred hands are thrown out of employment.

The Erie Railroad Company is reducing its forces in the different shops along the road. The workmen retained will be put on three-fourth time; commencing to-morrow.

Railway Company in a Tight Place.

NEW YORK, Oct. 31.—At a meeting of the Directors of the Chesapeake and Ohio railroad to-day no provision was made for paying the coupons due to-morrow, but instead it was decided that bondholders be asked to fund their coupons at date of maturity into seven per cent. income bonds. The Company will make a statement to creditors and bondholders to-morrow or very soon after. It is stated that C. P. Huntington, President of the Company, offers to furnish $150,000 of the $450,000 gold required for this purpose, provided other wealthy directors will furnish the remainder.

Expenses of the City and County of New York.

NEW YORK, Oct. 31.—Appropriations for city expenses for 1874, approved to-day by the Board of Estimate Apportionment, foot up $25,500,000, an increase over last year of $1,800,000. The county's appropriation foots up to $12,400,000, an increase over last year of over $3,000,000.

The Liquor Traffic and the Excise Law.

The Excise Board reports over four hundred liquor lairs of various kinds between Fourteenth street and Battery. $480,000 have been received for licenses during the present year, being $110,000 above the sum received by the old ring board.

Collision between Ferry Boats.

The Pavonia ferryboats Erie and Delaware came in collision to-day. The Delaware was cut in two and placed in a sinking condition. Of 500 passengers on board none were drowned or injured, though the panic was very great among the women and children. All were taken off by a passing tow boat. The Delaware was towed ashore. It is said the employes of the ferryboats are notoriously incompetent.

The Silk Industry in the United States.

The circular of the Silk Association of America for October gives 1,800 packages of silk manufactures imported into New York during the month, the foreign cost of which was $1,495,633, and a total since January 1st of 27,064 packages, valued at $22,773,[illegible]. October receipts of raw silks amounted to 986 packages, of which 907 came via San Francisco, valued at $821,508. The total amount of raw silk imported since January 1st is 7,260 packages—foreign value $4,[illegible].

A Suit against Ben. Butler.

The suit of Britton against Ben. Butler to recover the value of two notes or checks, captured by the latter at New Orleans, ended to-day. Decision reserved.

A mass meeting was held at Bingham last night on this subject.

COLLEGE BRUTALITY.

[From the New York Sun, October 15.]

Mortimer M. Leggett, a young student at Cornell University, and son of the Commissioner of Patents, was found about ten o'clock a few evening since in a secluded ravine, near Ithaca, so seriously injured that he died before midnight. His death was caused by a fracture of the skull and dislocation of the neck. Two students, who, it would appear, must have fallen down into the ravine at the same time, were too badly hurt to give their evidence at the coroner's inquest. It had been alleged that they were out hazing. But it was proved by the testimony of other witnesses, students who were in the party within a few feet of the spot from which young Leggett fell, that hazing was not the object of the evening's excursion, and that the poor victim was being initiated into some college society. This is doubtless the truth, strange as it may seem to the non-collegiate world, that young men of education and refinement should think it honorable to make the entrance to their secret societies fuller of torture and indignity than the worst cases of hazing. The form of initiation into a college society may be as silly as its officers choose to make it; but when the poor initiate is hurried around some vacant lot as though he were a hare and his friends a pack of beagles, it is no longer even a practical joke, and the only wonder is that a stalwart fellow, who pulls in the college crew or plays in the nine, should quietly submit to be whipped like a cur by some so-called friend.

The older colleges may have the excuse of establishing custom; but Cornell cannot put in such a plea. That our theory is right is confirmed by the dying words of the poor boy, "Oh, don't! oh, don't!" and "Take it off! take it off!" It is probable that his two companions, in whose charge he was, were ill-treating or beating him as they marched along, while the throng of other students looked on at a short distance, amused by the struggles of young Leggett. In their zeal they approached too near the edge of the precipice, and the three toppled over together. The fatal result of his injuries may very possibly be due in part to his being blindfolded, and so more helpless than the other two.

The accident is attributed by some to boyish carelessness; but if it can be called by so mild a name, it is carelessness of a most guilty kind. If a few of the participants in the tragedy were tried for manslaughter, an end might be put to the occurrence of such accidents at Cornell.

A PLUCKY CONDUCTOR.

HOW HE DEMORALIZED A PARTY OF GAMBLERS.

How some Western gamblers found their master in a Michigan conductor is thus told by the Detroit Free Press:

For the last month, a trio of monte men have been "working" the lines running into Detroit. They have been put off the Central, chased off the Detroit & Milwaukee, and kicked off the Lansing Road, but they made a fresh start the other day on the Southern, going out on Conductor Wilsey's train. At the depot they got in with an old man named Fremont, who lives in Pittsburg, and was on his way home. They pretended to live in Pittsburg also, and soon after getting on board the train they brought out their cards. Fremont is one of those smart old chaps who think themselves posted, and he knew the game and decided to make some money out of them. He lost $5, then $10, and between Detroit and the Junction he lost $35. This was all the money he had, but his blood was up, and he had hauled out a heavy gold watch to stake on the next bet, when the conductor passed along.

Seeing what was going on, Wilsey told the old man to put up his watch. At this, one of the gamblers snatched it saying, "I have won this," and then looked up at the conductor with a face full of brass. The train had been at a stand-still, and as it started the conductor pulled the signal to stop, and turned to the gamblers and demanded that they give Fremont back his watch and money. They refused in chorus, and one of the gamblers, as the conductor's coat came off, shouted, "This is better!" and pulled out a revolver and lined it on Wilsey's eye. "Commence shooting!" replied the conductor, and out came his own pistol, and for twenty seconds two revolvers were held up into two men's faces, hammers up and fingers on the triggers. The other two gamblers began to feel for their hip pockets, when Wilsey quietly said, "If you don't hold up your hands, I'll blow the top of your head off!" At that moment a Cleveland merchant and a Toledo Lake Captain came up, each with a cocked revolver. At this the gamblers offered to restore the watch, and when they had done so the conductor made them return the full $35.

"Now, then," said he, when he was through with them, "get off this train. I shall remember you, and if I ever catch one of you on my train again I'll have the engineer run her up to sixty miles an hour and my brakemen will pitch you into the first swamp." The fellows were ready to go.

ENGLISH JENKINSISM.—Sensational reporting is carried to a fine point in England. A reporter who saw Gladstone at church says, "The premier, who looked careworn and anxious, entered heartily into the service, and on the singing of the second hymn, 'Jerusalem, my happy home,' appeared to emphasize the words, 'When shall my labor have an end?'" This last touch is inimitable.

CALIFORNIA.

From San Francisco.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 1.—Rear Admiral Parrott sailed for China to-day on the Colorado, to take charge of the Asiatic squadron. Major John L. Gamble, an old pioneer officer in the United States Navy during the war, and till now, chief of the Supply Department of the Western Union Telegraph Company, has been appointed Secretary to the Admiral, and will probably sail for his destination on the 15th of the present month.

Gen. LaGrange, Superintendent of the Mint, has been notified from Washington that the price for silver bullion contained in gold deposited, has been reduced from 118 to 116 cents per ounce, payable in silver.

Three deaths occurred from smallpox in this city during the week.

The coinage of dimes was commenced at the mint to-day. The total coinage for the month of all coins, was $2,638,000.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 1.—The Call this morning says serious charges have been preferred at Washington, against General La Grange, Supt. Branch Mint of this city. They refer to the general conduct of affairs in discharging workmen and hiring others incompetent, and failing to comply with the rules relative to sale of lead, copper, and other materials.

There was considerable excitement to-day in mining stock circles. Sales were lively on the street, and in the Board. California street seems to have regained its normal state of animation and bustle. The principal attraction is Belmont and American Flag stocks.

The steamer Colorado sailed for China and Japan, at noon to-day.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 2.—Ned Allen, keeper of the notorious Bull Run Saloon, on Pacific street, was stabbed to the heart last night and instantly killed by an unknown drunken man who made his escape.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 2.—The police have not yet obtained any clue to the murderer of Ned Allen, proprietor of Bull Run Saloon, who was stabbed and killed last night.

That much-talked-of wedding between Prof. Lay and Miss Smith, which was to have been solemnized in a balloon at the City Gardens to-day, did not come off. Professor Lay and about six thousand paying patrons of the swindle were on hand, but the justice and bride did not put in an appearance. The balloon was inflated, and at the appointed hour the ropes were loosed and the air ship mounted upwards, the basket dangling and several men holding on to the rope. Prof. Lay and the correspondent of the New York Herald were about forty feet away, making frantic jumps toward the balloon. The men finally let go and the balloon shot alone into the air like a rocket, soon reaching a very high altitude, and at 5 P. M. it had disappeared in a north-easterly direction from the city. The whole performance was a complete humbug and swindle.

Late in the evening the balloon was reported seen over Martinez.

Interior California.

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 1.—The Orizaba sailed this evening for San Francisco with 138 tons of freight.

Two hotels are being refitted and one rebuilt for the accommodation of Eastern people who are daily arriving.

VALLEJO, Nov. 2.—Prof. Lay's balloon first became visible here at 4.30 P. M., over Pinole Point, apparently coming toward Vallejo, but the wind veered, and the balloon was last seen at 5:30, lowering in the direction of the mouth of the Petaluma, but some fear it lowered in San Pablo Bay, equi-distant between Mare Island and the main shore.

SANTA CLARA, Nov. 2.—A daring robbery occurred here last evening. While the family of Mr. Day were up town, the house was entered and rummaged of about $60 in coin, and a considerable quantity of jewelry, valued at about $150. No clue as yet to the robbers.

LODI, Nov. 2.—Mr. Geo. F. Newland came into town this morning and reported that Johnny Barton was shot and almost instantly killed by his brother, Joshua Barton, last evening at about half an hour before sunset, on their ranch near Hawks Corners. The brothers had been out hunting, and on arriving at home about half-past five in the afternoon, some misunderstanding occurred when Johnny Barton drew a knife and inflicted a wound across his brother's face, and also cut through the clothing on his breast. Joshua Barton then grabbed his gun and fired, the charge taking effect in his brother's left breast, who died soon after. A Justice of the Peace held an inquest over the remains.

REDDING, Nov. 2.—George Williamson, a pioneer of '49, and a resident of Shasta county for the past twenty-two years, died this morning at Millville, after an illness of ten days. He has been largely interested in sheep-raising. His death is a severe loss to the community. He will be buried to-morrow under the auspices of the Masonic Lodge at that place, of which he was an honored member.

A very fair start was made last evening to finish the town by fire. Thompson & Castle's hotel caught from a defective flue. By united exertions the town was saved from a second conflagration.

CENTRAL AMERICA.

SAN DIEGO, Nov. 2.—The P. M. S. S. Nevada from Panama, arrived Oct. 16th, at 7 A. M., and brought 11 passengers, 50 packages American, 20 Mexican and 21 of European goods for this port. This is the first direct European consignment. She sailed at 10 A. M. for San Francisco, and has on board 50 cabin, 77 steerage passengers, 700 tons of freight and 3,050 treasure.

The Nevada spoke the company's steamer Montana, on the 21st ult., and the Arizona on the 29th ult., both bound down.

The Nevada brings Panama dates to Oct. 16th.

The U. S. steamers Pensacola and Benicia are in the harbor at Panama. The former to sail on the 19th inst. for Callao.

The Star & Herald says the city is tranquil. The fight of twelve days ended on the 6th of Nov., by the work of diplomacy, without peaceful results, as war is still carried on outside the city, and may be prolonged for months.

An earthquake was felt over the entire Isthmus and by the shipping in the harbor on the 13th inst. No damage.

Aspinwall and Jamaica Cable again in working order.

An editorial says the Central American States have concluded to unite and divide the State of Honduras among themselves, thus restoring confidence in Central American securities in Europe, and prevent further swindling.

The bark Ron Rouault, of Nicaragua, Capt. Cornock, loading with cedar logs for San Francisco, was driven ashore by a storm while shifting her anchorage, near San Juan del Sur. The vessel is a total loss. She was owned by the Captain. The cargo was saved.

NEVADA.

Sage Hens Rejoicing.

VIRGINIA, Oct. 31.—The ninth anniversary of the admission of Nevada into the Union was celebrated here and in Gold Hill with great pomp to-day.

AUSTIN, Nov. 1.—Reports from the Belmont mine to-night state that intense excitement prevails in town in consequence of the recent strike. Developments since made in the Belmont mine lodge, at Point Discovery show that the vein has widened out to upwards of ten feet, and present developments prove beyond a doubt that this immense vein extends in one unbroken body for a distance of 275 feet in length, and in all probability to a much greater distance, cross cuts having been run into the ore body 8 or 9 feet, at short distances apart. Assays from all points give results variously from $1,000 to $3,000 per ton. Samples taken from all parts of the vein are of the same description—heavy, black sulphurets, thickly interspersed with wire silver. The Reveille's correspondent writes this evening that the ore in sight alone is sufficient to insure dividends for an unlimited length of time.

AUSTIN, Nov. 2.—The Battle Mountain stage was robbed of Wells Fargo & Co's treasure box again last night at the same place, and under about the same circumstances as on the former occasion.

THE REVOLUTION IN PANAMA.

PARTICULARS OF THE RECENT BATTLE—THE REBELS PUT TO FLIGHT AND QUIET RESTORED—DESTRUCTION OF PROPERTY—TRANSIT ROUTE STILL IN POSSESSION OF UNITED STATES FORCES.

By way of New York we have files of Panama papers to October 6th. From the Star and Herald we give the following particulars of the revolution in Panama, the fighting and the defeat of the enemy.

HEAVY CANNONADING—DESTRUCTION OF PROPERTY.

The condition of political affairs in Panama, up to the time of closing our present issue, morning of the 6th, remain unchanged. The firing between the belligerents has slackened considerably, particularly from the Correoso side, but more from scarcity of ammunition than from any other cause. During the night cannonading was kept up at regular intervals by the government forces. Several communications have been received by General Neira from General Correoso, expressing on the part of the latter a desire that a commission be named to try and bring about a peace that would be satisfactory to both parties, and save further bloodshed. On the receipt yesterday, 5th, of the last of these communications General Neira calling a meeting of his leading men and after due consideration decided that in compliance with General Correoso's request "that General Neira would grant him an interview in the presence of friends of both parties," Neira would do so, but that the most favorable terms on which peace could be conceded the rebels were: That the Government should pay the rebel soldiers the wages due them and $10 for each gun belonging to the Government which they should deliver up; that the entire force should be immediately disbanded, and that Correoso should hold himself responsible for all the damage to property in the Arrabal, caused by the cannon and rifles on the Government side. A note to this effect was dispatched to Correoso yesterday, the 5th instant, but no reply has yet been received. It is not at all likely, however, that the terms will be accepted. In the mean time Correoso is expecting a supply of ammunition which may reach him at any moment, when no doubt the contest will be prosecuted to the bitter end, and until one party proves itself triumphant.

The amount of property destroyed outside the walls we have no means of estimating till hostilities cease, but it must be very large. The gas works have suffered severely; the gasometer was rendered useless on the forenoon of 24th and continues so; the residence of Mr. Stivens, the Manager of the works, is completely riddled with bullets, hundreds having passed through the building destroying everything in the shape of furniture it contained, and a portion of the coal shed has been carried away by cannon balls and may result in the falling in of the outer wall and the precipitating of the contents in the sea. The store of Mr. Samudio in the rebellin near the market, with about twenty huts adjoining, was destroyed by fire on the morning of the 4th, with a loss of some $10,000. The cause of the fire is unknown, but is attributed to one of the contending parties for strategic purposes. The houses on the Plaza Prietta have suffered heavily; those of Mr. Recureo, Mr. Bermudez and Santiago Dellatorre are very severely damaged by cannon, whilst many other buildings in that locality and throughout the Arrabal have suffered more or less from the same cause. In the city proper, the greatest loss will fall upon the merchants whose stores, with hardly an exception, have been closed since the 23d ultimo. No sales have been made and no debts recovered. Since the same date all traffic and business between the Railroad Depot and the city has been stopped, and those connected with the road and obliged to go to the depot have to do so in small boats under great risk from the fire of the combatants.

TRANSIT ROUTE IN POSSESSION OF THE U. S. FORCES.

The United States forces still retain possession of the transit, and keep it uninterrupted from ocean to ocean. The forces stationed in the city proper returned to their ships by order of the Admiral on the 4th, he considering their presence in the city not urgently needed, and being short of men, could not well afford to have so many on shore at once. A more deplorable state of affairs than at present exists in our midst cannot well be imagined.

THE LATEST—THE REBELS PUT TO FLIGHT.

The foregoing was written on the morning of the 6th for our European edition, which was issued at 9 o'clock. About half-past six the same morning intelligence came from the outside that the Correoso party had fled in a body, and the Arrabal was abandoned by the enemy. The news spread rapidly and soon proved to be true. The enemy commenced retreating about 8 o'clock on the evening previous in the direction of Far Fan on horses, mules and on foot, and also towards Paitilla. During the night occasional firing was kept up as a blind, but towards daylight entirely ceased. The President, on being convinced of the truth of the news, ordered out a force of fifty men with some pieces of cannon to possess themselves of the enemy's late strongholds, who did so without resistance. In the meantime, many of the curious had sauntered forth to inspect the result of the twelve days' fighting and bombardment. The scene was both sad and sickening. The Arrabal was completely deserted, hardly a soul was to be seen in the streets, hardly a house but was closed and barricaded, the occupants having fled. Evidence of the deadly combat appeared on every side. The ashes of the store of Mr. Samudio near the market, were still smouldering. On the opposite side of the street, the property of Mr. Langlade, known as the "Hotel de Francia" had been pierced in many places with cannon balls, which passed through the building, and his house in front, "El Montijo," is little better than a ruin. All of the buildings composing the market and on the corner entering to it are greatly injured, and the stench in the neighborhood from decaying animal matter was sickening. Hardly a house in the vicinity escaped injury. All along the Calle Real one building after another showed that the great guns in the city had done their work. The Bola de Oro probably suffered most and was penetrated and torn in all directions, with what effect the blood-marks within indicate. The tower of the old church of Santa Ana is badly battered, and the roof in some places is broken in. The residence of General Correoso received a severe blow, which knocked in the top of the gable wall, and apparently part of the roof. Thus the list might be continued almost endlessly so far as we could see, all through the outskirts. The damage to the gas works, our readers will be pleased to learn, is not so serious as the manager expected to find, and if hostilities are not resumed, we may expect with good luck to have gas again in three or four days. The sick were badly cared for if at all, as the sad condition of cases found in the hospital amply testify, of which there were about a dozen. Of the number of deaths, we can only learn that some ten or a dozen bodies were seen being carried out clandestinely for burial.

THE FUTURE.

The cessation of hostilities does not, we fear, bring with it assurance of continued peace. The fact of the enemy having retreated whilst treating for a compromise and peace, without destroying property as they went, looks as though they intended to return. The great want of ammunition seems to have been the cause of the leaving, and the receipt of supplies, which, it is said, they will, we fear, bring them back, and with them a return of our past troubles. The dogged and determined spirit which they displayed for weeks past and their deliberate retreat augur ill, which we hope the Government will find itself fully prepared to meet. In the meantime we may enjoy a season of peace if not of confidence.

OREGON.

Plenty of snow at Baker City last week.

The Baker City boys were skating on Powder river last week.

The Oregon City Enterprise has commenced its eighth volume.

Supreme Court meets in Salem the second Monday in December—the 8th.

About 100 pupils are now in attendance at the Albany Collegiate Institute.

The Odd Fellows of Junction City propose to give a ball in the course of a few weeks.

Ten thousand bushels of wheat were raised on the Siletz Indian reservation the past season.

A suit for slander in Douglas county, last week, panned out $1 in damages for the plaintiff.

The Coos Bay stages, running from that place to Roseburg, come and go well filled with passengers.

James Williams, of Douglas county, has been sent to the penitentiary for two years, for larceny.

A protracted meeting is announced to be held at the Christian Church, Eugene, during this week.

Circuit Court for Lane county convenes to-day (Monday.) The docket, leaving out the Railroad cases, is very short.

A shot gun and a bed blanket were stolen from Mr. Blain's residence at Eugene last week. The thief took to the woods.

The Tongue Point Fishery enterprise has received some kind of set-back, we should judge from an item in the Astorian.

A school teacher named Rice, at Roseburg, has been bound over in the sum of $500 for whipping a boy seven years old.

Several gentlemen from California and the East are examining lands in Lane county with a view to making large purchases.

A hundred head of beef steers were recently brought from Ochoco to Salem and sold for three and a quarter cents per pound.

J. C. Ulman, living near Roseburg, let his horses run away the other day, throwing him out of the wagon and breaking his leg.

Hon. J. H. D. Henderson is out in a card denying that he voted to increase the pay of member of Congress when he was in that body.

Circuit Court for Jackson county, will convene on the 10th inst. There are 29 cases on the docket; 9 law, 8 equity and 12 criminal cases.

The measles has assumed almost epidemic form in Jacksonville. Nearly every youngster—and many youngster-cases—are suffering from its effects.

A company is about to be incorporated in the Dalles for the purpose of building a wagon road through the canyon of the Yakima mountains.

Total amount of city taxes collected and reported by the City Marshal of Albany for 1873 is $3,377 30, leaving but $19 as delinquent taxes for the year.

Nesmith's vote in Linn county is 44 less than Wilson's, and 295 less than Burnett's last year, and the total vote of the county is 823 less than that of last year.

The "devil" in the Plaindealer office had the hair burned off the top of his head last week. He thinks coal oil good to kindle fires but says it must be handled carefully.

The Eugene Hawkeye "pied" a form last Friday, and will probably not issue this week. The editor sat down on a bodkin the other day, and he is now kept standing.

John F. Doe, accused of burglarizing the dwelling of Mr. Blair, at Eugene last week, was caught five miles this side of Jacksonville and brought back to the Lane county jail.

The Albany Register says: "In the country hereabouts the plow and the seed drill are very busy. Farmers are intent on having another good harvest, and hope to be rewarded for their labor."

The present cold, dry weather is keeping the grass from springing up as it generally does in this country in the fall, and consequently the prospect for stock wintering without feed is not so good as common.

A serious cutting affray occurred at Ashland, Oct. 30th, in which a man named John C. Perry alias Texas, was seriously, if not fatally stabbed by a shoemaker named August Walters. Whisky was the cause.

W. B. Carter, of the Corvallis Gazette, will issue a Benton County Almanac for 1874. If he don't have a "patent inside," it will be a useful and interesting document, and different from the one he issued for 1873.

The press and office fixtures of the Forest Grove Independent have been purchased by Mr. H. C. Luce, of Olympia, a graduate of the Pacific University. We welcome Mr. Luce to the field of journalism, and wish him success.

A man in the employ of the Hack & Dray Company was hauling dirt last week at Salem, and while loading his wagon a bank caved on him with such force as to knock him over against the wagon wheel and bruise him very badly.

Thos. F. Beall, of Jackson county, the past season raised 576 bushels of wheat on eight acres of land, being 72 bushels to the acre. Jacob Ish, in the same county, raised 1,493 bushels of oats on 14 acres of land. "Them's craps" for you.

Mr. VanCleve, of the Albany Register, has gone on a protracted visit to Eastern Oregon. During his absence the Register is under the control of Mr. Wm. Morgan, who is up to snuff in the newspaper business and a good judge of horseflesh.

The people living along the lower part of the Alsea river are sadly in need of a mail route from the mouth of that stream to Newport. The distance is about 15 to 25 miles, and a good passage for horse or wagon may be found along the beach.

The Albany and Santiam canal is nearing completion. The last section is now under contract to Messrs. Morris & Fry. The Company expect to have water through by the first of December, should the weather continue any way favorable for the prosecution of the work.

On Thursday morning the 28th ult., the stable of Mr. David Kelly, of Pocahontas, Baker county, caught fire and was entirely burned down, together with a quantity of hay and two or three sets of harness. It is not known how the fire caught. Loss, $800 or $1,000.

The following is a statement of transactions of the Land Office at Roseburg, for the month of October: Four cash entries embracing 318 acres; 10 Homestead entries embracing 2,459 acres, 15 Final Homestead entries, embracing 2,57[illegible] acres, one coal land entry, embracing 160 acres, 16 declaratory statements filed; 4 A. C. Scrip locations.

Wheat brought 95 cents at the Salem Mills last Saturday, and was coming in very rapidly. The Statesman reporter counted eleven teams at the mill when he was there, waiting to unload, and the streets were crowded with farmers' wagons all day. Messrs. Kinney & Sons have been receiving wheat for some time past at the rate of 2,000 bushels daily.

Our Oakland correspondent writing under date of 2d says: "Foggy, chilly and some rain on Friday. Mrs. C. Trim accidentally broke her leg on Tuesday evening by the breaking of the seat in the wagon on which she was sitting. Three births in town last night—all soldiers. A number of cases of putrid sore throat reported. Multitude of bad colds—everybody and his neighbor has 'em."

Rev. Dr. Dawne, who returned from Corvallis Friday, informs the Statesman that proposals have been issued for plans and specifications for a new College building to be erected at that place. The building is to cost not less than $75,000, and from the fact that J. R. Bailey, G. B. Smith, J. S. Palmer, B. S. Arnold and F. A. Chenoweth constitute the building committee, we conclude the work will be carried to speedy completion, and will be a lasting credit to the city.

The Astorian claims that the Portland dailies steal its items, and says a part of our commercial report and half of the State items in our issue of the 29th ult. were taken from it bodily, without credit. We have only to say that the Astorian is in error as to ourselves, and refer our readers to the papers for proof; and further, that the Astorian gets all its news items, except purely local matters, from the Portland dailies, and does not give credit for one out of twenty that it appropriates.

The Farmer says: Mr. Hillery informs us that the barn on the farm of Simeon Smith, about ten miles southeast of Salem, was burned a few days since and all the contents destroyed. The tenant's name is Hawkins; he had set fire to the straw pile in the adjoining field, and the flames spread and enveloped the barn before they were seen by the men, who were at the time at work some distance off in the field. It was then too late to even save any of the contents of the barn, which consisted of agricultural tools, harness, etc., twenty tons of hay; and what grain Mr. Hawkins had reserved for use and for seed. He had fortunately hauled all his surplus to market.

The following is the decision of Hon. C. Delano, Secretary of the Interior, which reverses the decision of the Commissioner of the General Land Office at Washington, relative to a conflict of title between the Corvallis and Yaquina Bay Military Wagon Road Company vs. Christopher Rogers, and same vs. Elijah Mulkey, to certain lands between Corvallis and Yaquina Bay: "I find that the wagon road was definitely located; a map of such location duly filed in the General Land Office; the lands ordered to be withdrawn, so far as could be done, before survey; and the road constructed almost its entire length before either of said parties made a settlement upon the lands in controversy. The right of the Company, therefore, attached before any intervening right was acquired by the claimants. I reverse your decision, and return herewith the papers transmitted with your letter of 9th July last."

The Democrat of the 29th ult., says: On last Friday, about noon, the hay stacks of Mr. Thomas Finlayson, immediately east of and adjoining Baker City, were discovered to be on fire, which was quickly communicated to the adjoining stacks of straw and the stables, and soon the whole was one mass of flame. There were no men about the premises when the fire was first discovered. The women folks did all they could in getting the horses from the stable, and saved all of them but the fine stallion "Tiger," he being in the back part of the stable they were not able to get him out, and he perished in the flames. The ladies of Mr. Finlayson's family worked like heroines. The loss Mr. Finlayson sustains is about as follows: The fine horse "Tiger, $1200; hay and straw, $800; grain, $200; stables, harness, saddles, &c., $800 or $1,000, making a total of over $3,000. The wind was blowing very hard from the north at the time of the fire, and it was impossible to save more than was saved. It is not known how the fire caught.

THE TERRITORIES.

Many mercantile firms in Idaho now do business on a greenback basis entirely.

All the men in Kittitas valley but two, have gone to the new gold mines on the Yakima.

Quite a number of persons on the Sound, including a few Tacomans, are already on the way to the new Yakima gold mines.

Tacoma had a small fire, caused by a defective flue, last week. But little damage was done. This was her first conflagration.

The mines are gradually going down at Florence, Warrens, and along on Salmon river, and business is very dull. The Chinamen largely outnumber the white men.

Collector Garfielde, of the District of Puget Sound, took passage a few days since on the bark Forest Queen, for San Francisco. He is expected to return on board the revenue cutter Oliver Wolcott.

John Hailey, member of Congress, sheep-raiser, packer and miner, bought three hundred suits of old military clothes at a sale ordered by the Government, at Fort Boise, last week. He is going to give each of his constituents a suit.

The Olympia Courier of the 30th ult., says: There seems to be a general stirring up in connection with the Indian Department. About 3 P. M. to-day 10 canoes came steaming into port loaded to the water's edge with Indians and other ictas who marched in solid body, double quick, to Superintendent Milroy's office. The chief Clerk, Rev. Mr. Whitworth, was too busy to give them a formal reception. What is up?

RAILWAY SPEED.—The London Engineer states that the highest railway speed in the world is attained in England, and that the highest of all is reached on the Great Western Railway—the speed on the latter being given roundly as 50 miles an hour. Instances are given, however, of 65 or 70 miles an hour, and the Engineer believes that it would be possible to lay permanent way so well, and to maintain it in such excellent order, that trains might travel on it with perfect safety at 100 miles an hour—indeed, miles and miles of such tracks are now to be found on most of the great main lines, but nowhere can 100 consecutive miles of permanent way in perfection be found, and, as a chain is no stronger than its weakest link, so a few hundred yards of bad track would spoil for the purpose of traveling 100 miles an hour, a whole line. The really important question, argues the Engineer, is, given the line and the cars fit for it, what shall the engine be like, and is it possible to construct an engine at all which, with a moderately heavy train, will attain and maintain a velocity of one hundred miles an hour, on a line with no grade heavier than, say, one in three hundred. After a thorough examination of the question in all its bearings, the Engineer's figures prove that it is absolutely impossible to obtain a speed of one hundred miles an hour on railways, if the resistance is anything like one hundred and twenty pounds per ton.

MONDAY MORNING NOVEMBER 3 1873

RECKLESS EXTRAVAGANCE

Again the Forty-Second Congress is indicted by the tell tale wires As if it were fearful that the very dead body would be buried before the lesson of its iniquities were thoroughly learned the telegraph loses no opportunity for kicking the carcass Perhaps this active disregard for the national nostrils will result in something better than nausea. We shall hope so. But we shall also pray that the stench may be turned to better account than is apparent in the case of Father Phelan a [illegible] Catholic priest of St Louis who [illegible], in a convention of Irish benevolent societies, the other day, that our "public schools graduate thieves, scoundrels and members of Congress"

We are told in our morning dispatches that the estimates for the legislative branch of the Government show an increase over previous years The specifications are not sufficient to enable us to judge just how much they are in excess Of course the back-pay grab will account in some measure for the appropriation of [illegible],000 to salaries of Senators and Representatives, while the item of contingent [illegible] $100,000—gains much of its importance from the abolition of the franking privilege, doubtless But our Eastern exchanges tell us that the Forty-Second Congress carried the mania for increase of expenditures into almost every department While it is possible to account for the liberality in disbursing of the people's money which is alluded above, the extravagance in [illegible] to the large estimates of heads of departments is quite inexcusable In former years it has been the custom of Congress to cut down those estimates. It has [illegible] understood that the heads of [illegible] asked for much larger appropriations [illegible] were actually needed [illegible] it may be, in deference to the [illegible] of retrenchment on which every [illegible] to for a seat in the national [illegible] his canvass But the [illegible] disregarded this ancient rule and instead of reducing the [illegible] estimates it increased them until [illegible] appropriations exceeded the estimates [illegible] $1,370,468 04 In 1871 the appropriations were less than the estimates by [illegible],000.

[illegible] action is quite in keeping with [illegible] other transactions of the Forty-[illegible]. At the same time it is [illegible] that when the general appropriation bill was under consideration [illegible] of the whole people was on the [illegible]. The p[illegible] was alert and watchful [illegible] were growling. Those who are interested [illegible] will hope that the [illegible] will do something towards [illegible] this seemingly reckless [illegible]

[illegible] UP TO THE AVERAGE

[illegible] of the OREGONIAN [illegible], in the person of Mr Hugh [illegible] and most reliable traveling [illegible] letters have ever appeared in any Oregon newspaper His letters [illegible] readable, his descriptions [illegible] truthful, and his statements [illegible] on careful inquiry [illegible] has never had occasion [illegible] this gentleman's letters in [illegible] particular, but, on the contrary [illegible] him, in all his relations [illegible], a thorough gentleman, [illegible] in his regard for truth, just in [illegible] and in his criticisms temperate [illegible] for the character of our [illegible]

[illegible] of Saturday makes a gross [illegible] on Mr Small, arraigning [illegible] "intimate and falsifier for pay" [illegible] of these charges we do [illegible] to defend our correspondent, knowing well his ability to defend [illegible] further than to say that such a [illegible] of the man is utterly at [illegible] with our knowledge of him As [illegible] the second charge — that "North-[illegible]" in his last letter, "wanders out [illegible] proper path to injure and ma[illegible] the Railroad Company, so far [illegible] concerned the conduct of its officers in relation to freights from the Umpqua [illegible]—we shall have something to [illegible]

[illegible] letter referred to, our correspondent, in pursuance of instructions at [illegible], gives the results of his observation [illegible] in the matter of wheat-growing and [illegible] freight rates in the Umpqua valley. He says that just at a time when [illegible] of that valley most needed [illegible] in marketing their [illegible] "the freight on wheat was raised twenty-one cents to twenty-seven [illegible] bushel from Roseburg to Portland." For saying thus, Mr Small is un[illegible]edly denounced as a 'falsifier for [illegible].' Before the Bulletin rushed with such indecent haste to pronounce our correspondent guilty of falsehood, it would have been better to remember that about five weeks ago the OREGONIAN editorially made this statement, which now gives such offense that the Railroad Company raised the tariff on wheat from twenty one to twenty seven cents per bushel from Roseburg to Portland The Bulletin denied this "on the authority of the Railway Company" as it said. And when we made good our assertion by producing indisputable evidence, the Bulletin sneaked out of its denial, and laid the responsibility for its lying on the Freight Superintendent of the O and C R R Co who had to stand the consequences of the retraction The reading public will remember the controversy and how it ended in convicting our adversary of gross misrepresentations

The attack on our correspondent is wholly unjustifiable, but it is no more than should be expected of a journal which knows no fealty to principle higher than the interests of a grasping corporation and which is bound to the defense of that corporation, because the dictator who sits behind the editorial chair is a veritable autocrat in the Bulletin establishment The cowardliness of the assault is manifest in the evasive passage which immediately follows the one we have quoted: "We [illegible] to answer [illegible] and perverse comments, because the facts in the case have been sufficiently noted already" As we have before said, the Bulletin takes refuge behind the unworthy generality of 'falsehood' and 'mis-statement," simply because, when "the facts in the case" were under discussion on a previous occasion that paper was convicted of uttering a most miserable lie

We have said thus much in justice to our correspondent Mr Small, because the wanton attempt to defame his character is so entirely groundless as far as his relation to the OREGONIAN goes We are quite certain that that gentleman will not be deterred from the conscientious performance of his duty by any abuse which the Bulletin may heap upon him

The very latest concerning the scandal with which Senator Matt Carpenter's name is connected is contained in a Washington dispatch of October 31 which states that the Senator's friends aver that he has sufficient documentary evidence to prove conclusively "that the Long Branch scandal involving his reputation and the wife of another man was without foundation The husband of the woman it is said is willing to testify that there was nothing wrong done but that his wife was merely placed under Senator Carpenter's protection On the other hand the author of the charge is willing to prove every part of it even to the fact that Carpenter registered under an assumed name at the West End Hotel, Long Branch" The dispatch ends with "If Carpenter presses his defense some rich revelations are promised" We cannot understand how it is that the revelations—the nature of which we can easily imagine—could be termed "rich" by any one having a decent regard for the dignity of the higher branch of our national legislature We wish that every member of the Senate of the Forty third Congress could show a character of average purity It is noticeable that two Senators can now boast an alias If the Carpenter scandal comes before a committee of investigation we shall hope that he will procure an honest acquittal

The defaulting postmaster in the Pittsburg postoffice has sent a bevy of tender hearted friends to Washington to intercede for him The delegation has appealed to the Postmaster General to withdraw all prosecution of the defaulter provided all the money stolen from the government be refunded Their next modest request will be that the thief be retained in office. We are told that "the delegation is headed by a member of Congress from that district and in a party point of view it is otherwise respectable" It is said that Mr Creswell has not acted on this extraordinary request and the general impression at Washington is that he will allow the law to take its course The righteous punishment of one or two of these thieves who have been coming into unpleasant prominence of late, might act as a salutary restraint on others who have ample disposition to follow in the footsteps of Col John H Stewart

The Minneapolis Times complains of Congressman Dunnell because, as it says he "is receiving $625 a month for overseeing the work men engaged in hauling sand for his new house." How unreasonable people will be! If Dunnell was a Senator if he were neglecting grave duties as a member of the Senate Committee on Transportation, if instead of spending his leisure moments in superintending workmen he were spending thousands of dollars in corrupting elections to secure an endorsement of his disgusting social crimes—if Dunnell were doing these things he might be deserving the contumely of the indignant Times, in which case, of course, the Bulletin would be loud-mouthed in his praise! But what is the average Congressman to do in his leisure moments? Surely Dunnell could do his constituency no greater service than in building a mansion and inscribing over its portals, "Back Pay"

A California paper has been ransacking the new Code adopted by the last Legislature of that State Among other laughable blunders he notices the attempt to describe the legal proportions of the bushel half bushel and peck measures Section 3,220 of the Code provides

The measures of capacity for coal ashes marl manure Indian corn in the ear fruits and roots of every kind and for all other commodities commonly sold by heap measure are the half bushel and its multiples and subdivisions, and measures used to measure such commodities must be made cylindrical with plane and even bottom and must be of the following diameters from outside to outside the bushel nineteen and a half inches, half bushel, fifteen and a half inches and the peck twelve and a third inches

In compliance with this masterly definition a bushel measure could be made to hold no more than a pint simply by making the sides of the measure thick enough

The Atchison (Kansas) Patriot says that the real estate of Senator Pomeroy has been attached for debt, and a Washington correspondent writes that the Senator has been obliged to suspend work on the handsome mansion he is reconstructing "His notes have been offered at an awful discount says the correspondent. Senator Stewart of Nevada has also been forced to suspend temporarily This same correspondent describes the latter Senator's house now in process of building as a palace which resembles one of Helmbold's quack advertisements in brick and mortar" Next to the famous aphorism of bluff Oakes Ames Ben Butler's It is a bad year for Congressmen [and Senators] is about as near the disgraceful truth as the average Congressman can hope to get

From the Coos Bay News of October 22d we learn that Coos county gives Nesmith 70 majority in the Congressional election of 1872 it gave Wilson a majority of 33 over Burnett Curry County gives Nesmith 8 majority The same county gave Wilson a majority of 4

THE BAZAINE TRIAL

PARIS October 29 1873

At the Bazaine trial to day M Flahaut messenger testified that under fear of capture by the enemy he swallowed a dispatch which he was carrying from Thionville to Metz The dispatch was recovered and delivered to officers at headquarters at Metz on the 29th of August but by them was thrown into the fire unread Lieutenant Negrier swore that he truthfully attempted to deliver to Bazaine a dispatch intrusted to him on the 23d of August by the Empress He admitted after much prevarication that he would otherwise have [illegible] General [illegible] The President of the Court severely censured the witness for attempting to conceal fact

THE DROWNING OF CAPTAIN DICK BARTON A correspondent of the Sacramento [illegible] writing from Tahoe City recently gives the account of the drowning of this well known sea captain Drowned in Lake Tahoe on the 11th of October Captain Dick Barton a well known sea captain He has been a resident of Emerald Bay for about fourteen years and in the employ of Ben Holladay He has been a faithful servant to Holladay and will be missed on the lake more especially by excursionists as he was always ready to take them to the bay and show them the improvements he had made in Holladay's private place of resort His whitehall boat was found a perfect wreck sails set and one oar It is supposed that he was lost on the rocks

A VETERAN REPUBLICAN SPEAKS

SOUND DOCTRINE FROM THREE SCORE YEARS AND TEN—ONE OF THE MANY TRIED FLOUR WAVES THE REPUBLICAN PARTY

SILVERTON Oct 30 1873

To THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN

Will you please favor me with a little space in your paper to make public some of my thoughts and feelings with regard to the political affairs of our young State

I am drawing near my three score and ten years but I still take a deep interest in the preservation of our republican institutions I have never sought official position though I have sometimes been solicited to become a candidate but have always excused myself desiring to remain in private life as long as there were those who were as well or better qualified for the position than myself Therefore I cannot be accused of being soured by disappointed ambition

I have been a reader of the OREGONIAN much of the time for the last twenty years and for the most part have approved its course and in the present state of affairs I am glad to find it so cowardly as to fear to fall in with corruptions that demagogues and subsidized editors are endeavoring to fasten upon the Republican party

Our Government as all Governments should be was instituted by the people for the good of the people to promote justice and morality and to suppress immorality, vice and crime and it was intended to be conducted by the people But political ambition has seized upon the hearts of many of our citizens, and so demoralized them that they have bargained with each other, formed themselves into cliques and rings, and so blinded the people by their sophistry that many seem to have become willing to be led "like the lamb to the slaughter"

It is necessary that we awake to a sense of our condition and observe the hands on the dial plate of liberty and see in what direction they point, and if we find our treacherous political pilots have carried us into the fogs and shoals of corruption, let us light up the lamps of truth, justice and equal rights and place them around the binnacle of our ship of state, observe well the needle and keep a firm grasp upon the tiller until we again get into the channel of liberty We will then be rid of those friends that have been willing to sacrifice our Republican principles for their own aggrandizement I am not surprised at the course of the editor of the Statesman I have known him many years I was one that aided in raising the standard of the Republican party in Oregon, and when a few of us were met to organize, he came and undertook to browbeat and terrify us out of our designs But we were too cowardly to follow him and desert the right and therefore we persevered and he finally fell into our ranks and he now calls upon the people to support the Republican party and urges the plea that we must have a candidate who has money to spend or we will be beaten

Has it come to this, that an office must be purchased with money? Must the press be subsidized and political brokers fed or a candidate, be he ever so well qualified cannot be elected? His case reminds me of the saying of one of our religious writers that where a good cause was started and the devil found he could not defeat it directly he transformed himself into an angel of light and turns character and destroys it with an intemperate zeal"

I have been a woman's rights man from my youth and have looked with a great deal of respect upon those who have advocated the principle in connection with morality

I have been very much surprised and chagrined at the course of the editress of the New Northwest in connection with our political affairs Can it be that she like Achan, has looked upon the talents of silver and the wedge of gold and coveted them, and thus is bringing trouble into the camp of the political Israel? Or has she been deceived?

She calls those cowards, who are unwilling to endorse the character of Mr Mitchell and she has many other epithets for them. Does she think she can by such means drive people that act upon principle to bolt their principles rather than corrupt nominations?

Lest she might accuse me of being a coward if I used a fictitious signature I subscribe myself,

Yours for the right, F WILBUR

CITY.

DEATH OF MR. BARRETT.—Mr. Charles Barrett, Sr., died at his residence last Saturday morning at 2 o'clock, of apoplexy. His death was, as the character of the disease would indicate, very sudden and unexpected. On Thursday he was on the streets and in the enjoyment of his usual good health. Mr. Barrett was one of Oregon's old pioneers, few men being better known in the city and State. He came to Portland in 1852, and has resided here ever since. Many years ago he established a brewery—one of the first in the city—on the same ground at present occupied by the Masonic Temple. After abandoning that avocation, Mr. Barrett became engaged in the stationery and book business, which he followed up to the time of his death. Deceased was a native of England having been born at Ross of Herefordshire. At the time of his death he was in his sixty-third year. He leaves a daughter and son and an extensive circle of friends to mourn his sudden removal from the daily walks of life. Yesterday the remains were buried in the Lone Fir Cemetery, and were followed to their final place of rest by a large number of friends.

SHIP ESKDALE.—This splendid vessel, under command of Capt. Jenkinson, arrived at port last Saturday. The Eskdale is without exception one of the largest and finest ships which have yet touched at this port. Her dimensions are: length over all, 240 feet, hold, 22½ feet, beam 38 feet. Registered capacity, 1,200 tons. The vessel can carry, with ease and safety, 1,900 tons. The Eskdale was built at Cumberland in 1873, expressly for the Australian and California trade. Throughout she is constructed of iron. The vessel is wholly new, the present being her first voyage. She brought a large assorted cargo from Liverpool to Melbourne, and made the passage in seventy-eight days. At the latter port she discharged her cargo, and taking on rock ballast sailed for this port with orders to carry a load of wheat to Europe. Columbia river was reached on the fiftieth day out from Melbourne. No accidents occurred from the time the ship left Liverpool until she arrived here. When loaded, the Eskdale will draw a little over twenty feet. She is at present lying at Flanders' wharf, and will begin discharging ballast to-day.

JOLLY SONS OF NEPTUNE.—Three large colored sailors from the ship Disco were arrested yesterday afternoon for creating a disturbance on the streets. When found by the Police, they were holding forth to a mixed assemblage on First street, in front of Oro Fino Theater. One of the number—a stalwart son of Ethiopia, who stands six feet and two in his stockings—was coming down on the sidewalk with a pair of number 13 cowhide boots to the soothing strains of the "Essence of Old Virginia." Of course the crowd were delighted with the performance of the artist, who, in turn, was hugely enjoying the solo "hoe-down." But two gentlemen with a five-pointed piece of metal pinned on the left side of the coat drew near and caused the curtain to suddenly fall on the amusing scene. These three ebony-hued sons of Neptune were marched off to jail, where they have been allowed to sleep off the effects of their deep potations, and will also have an opportunity to rise and explain this morning "why this, thusly?"

WOOL SORTING AND PACKING.—The Willamette Farmer is authority for the statement that a company is being formed in Portland for the purpose of sorting, grading, and packing wool for market, in the most reliable manner. It will receive any man's wool, have it sorted, all unmerchantable culls taken out, and, after being graded for the eastern markets, it will be baled in compact shape so as to save fully the cost of grading and packing in the single item of freight. The advantages will be that the quality and merchantable value of the wool will be vouched for by a reliable packing company; the producer can have the advantage of having his combing wools all sorted so that he can realize the highest price, and we need hear nothing more about fraud in the [illegible] of Oregon wools. Such a company is much needed here.

PASSENGERS ON THE WAY.—The steamer Ajax sailed from San Francisco for Portland last Saturday morning. The following passengers are on board: Dr. C. Holden, U. S. A., and family, Mrs. M. Myers and child, A. F. Millner, D. Marsh, wife and daughter, O. G. Cole, E. B. Williams, Dr. C. H. Mack, H. Eastman, E. Mehlert, Chas. Logus, W. Hemstock, wife and five children, E. Hull, W. K. Leveredge, S. H. Sabin, wife and nine children, Mrs. B. Murphy, J. Zumwalt, Mrs. Garvey, Miss DeWolf, Miss A. C. Millner, John Gamage, L. M. Castle, B. S. Worsley, W. A. Rucker, wife, child and servant, H. D. Sanborn, B F. Clapp, Sam. Scott, C. F. Kuehn, J. H. Brady and wife, Wm. L. Halsey, Paul Dato, Mrs. Zumwalt and child, Mrs. E. Leary, Mrs. D. Dobson and daughter.

STRAWBERRIES—SECOND CROP.—The present season appears unusually propitious to the production of second crops. Only a day or two since we noticed the fact of a second crop of pears near the city, and now comes Mr. D. L. Prettyman with a fine cluster of ripe strawberries, the same which he deposited on our table, and averreth that these said berries grew on his farm two and a half miles east of Portland. Having "sampled" several of these berries we can safely vouch for their superior quality, size, flavor, etc. The same vines produced a full crop last summer. This is certainly a rather uncommon occurrence. Ripe strawberries from the vines, in the month of November, are not to be sneered at.

ARRESTS DURING OCTOBER.—During the past month the following arrests have been made by the police force: For drunken and disorderly conduct, 95; assault with a deadly weapon, 2; forgery, 1; larceny, 12; lewd cohabitation, 2; illegal voting, 6; bribing a voter, 1; threatening to kill, 1; assault and battery, 23; obstructing sidewalks and refusing to repair the same, 5; indecent exposure of person, 3; manslaughter, 2; fast driving, 3; abusive language, 1; assault with intent to commit a rape, 1; defacing a building, 3. Total number of arrests, 162.

TRACK RAISING.—The lower portion of the street car track having been laid on made ground before it had time to thoroughly settle, as a natural consequence the track is several inches below the established grade. Last week the City Surveyor designated the proper grade, and several men began on Saturday to raise and ballast the track.

WHEAT TO CORK.—The S. F. Chronicle of the 30th says that the ship David Brown, of 995 tons burden, has been ordered to Portland to load with wheat for Cork. If that is the case, this vessel may be expected to arrive here in a few days.

THE PORTLAND GUILD.—The annual meeting of the Portland Guild meets in Trinity Chapel, Monday, Nov. 3d, at 7.30 P. M. Officers are to be elected and committees appointed. A full attendance is requested.

TOWED DOWN.—The English bark Flechero, took on board as much grain as she could get away with, and was towed down the river last Saturday afternoon by the Oneonta.

OUT-DOOR SPORTS.

The base ball season is over. The boys will now settle down quietly and talk over events of the campaign just closed, and form any number of new nines for 1874.

The representatives of the Dreadnaught crew were at the appointed place on Saturday evening, and waited for some time for the appearance of those acting in behalf of the Occidentals. Finding that no persons were ready to "put up" on the victors in the race last month they retired, signifying a willingness to entertain any propositions looking towards completing arrangements provided there should be no delay in the matter. We trust the promised boat race will not end in smoke. Let us have a contest 'ere the season closes.

PERSONAL.

Gen. George Crook, formerly Commander of the Department of the Columbia, the old and well known veteran in the Indian wars on this coast, as well as for many other distinguished services during the late civil war, has recently been appointed Brigadier General vice Brigadier General Philip St. George Cooke, retired. An honorable and merited award for years of faithful and meritorious services in defense of the Government.

LOCAL BREVITIES.

Moonlight promenaders are happy.

The County Court will convene to-day.

The Circuit Court still drags its slow length along.

Seven ships, all under charter to carry hence cargoes of wheat.

The Firemen's election will be held on the 1st of December.

The hull of the Lord of the Isles is receiving a new coat of paint.

Central Market was all a blaze of light, music and gayety last Saturday evening.

Three colored sailors from the bark Disco were arrested yesterday for general disorderly conduct.

The thousand and one barnacles which accumulated on the hull of the bark Lota are being scraped off.

A stranger, should he take a casual glance at Stark street, would be led to erroneously think that Portland was a mining town.

Police officer J. D. Yates was attacked on Saturday afternoon with hemorrhage of the lungs. He was unable to walk home without assistance.

Many of the friends of Mr. B. L. Norden were regretting his departure for Salem on the morning train of Saturday to assume the position of book-keeper in the Salem Flouring Mills. They were truly gratified upon his return, late in the afternoon, when he informed them that A. B. Hallock had received the appointment of Police Commissioner.

The Yreka Union says: Curly-Headed Doctor of the Modoc tribe, en route for Wyoming, with his chronic grin, looks a good deal like Vivian's representation of the English sneak-thief in his song and dance of "Ten Thousand Miles Away," and the Modoc Doctor is doubtless a similar character to a great extent, though not going quite so far as ten thousand miles away, and minus the band around each hand, but sports the other around his leg, as he leaves in the morning train.

HELD TO ANSWER.

GLASS AND MEALY BOUND IN THE SUM OF FIVE THOUSAND DOLLARS EACH TO ANSWER TO THE CHARGE OF MANSLAUGHTER.

The case of the State of Oregon vs. C. G. Glass and Charles Mealy came up again in the Police Court last Saturday morning.

THE DEFENSE

Asked and obtained leave of the Court to recall Benj. Hardman, who further testified: At the time I came to Portland, having heard of my sister's death, Dr. Glass told me that Mr. Mealy agreed to give him $250 to treat her case for four or five weeks, and also to pay $15 per week for her board. I don't remember that he said anything about the child; don't recollect that he said he was to take care of the child till Mealy could take it home. Glass said that on examination he found that the child was dead.

Defendants were then informed of their right to make a statement of any facts which might tend to exculpate them from anything which might have appeared in the testimony against them, as provided by law, and waived the right to make such statement.

Defendants' counsel then asked that the defendant Mealy be permitted to testify on behalf of defendant Glass, to which counsel for the prosecution objected, as the parties were jointly charged. The objection was sustained by the court, and counsel for the defendants then filed a motion for the discharge of Mealy. The motion was argued at length by Messrs. Williams and Strahan for the defense, and Mr. Thompson for the State, and overruled by the court.

Mr. Williams then stated that he did not desire to offer any further testimony at present.

Whereupon the court ordered that defendants be held in the sum of $5,000 each, to appear and answer to the charge of manslaughter before the Grand Jury of this county.

BOARD OF DELEGATES.

The Board of Delegates of the Portland Fire Department met at the Police Court room on Saturday evening, at 7:30 o'clock, November 1st, 1873.

The following members were present: W. H. Andrus, President; J. F. Good, A. B. Hallock, W. A. Holbrook, J. W. Whalley, Wm. Young, E. Wicks, W. H. Wetsell, R. Holman, H. Morgan, C. W. Parrish, B. Mayer, D. C. Lewis, Jos. Sloan and J. P. Wilcox.

Absent, J. L. Davidson and F. M. Arnold.

The minutes of the previous meeting read and approved.

The financial report of the Secretary for the month of October read and filed.

Certificates of Membership were granted to H. D. Sanborn, A. Kestel and Wm. Mast, of Multnomah, No. 2, and C. E. DuBois, of Hook & Ladder, No. 1.

An Exempt Certificate was granted to Thomas Moffett.

The resignation of F. M. Arnold, as a member of the Board, was read and accepted.

The Board appointed R. S. McLeran, of No. 4, J. H. Lyon, of No. 1 and B. Z. Holmes, of No. 3, Judges of the Election for Chief and Assistant Engineers, to be held Dec. 1st, 1873, and designated the house of Vigilance Hook & Ladder Company as the place of voting.

On motion, adjourned.

C. BALL, Sec'y. P. F. D.

THE COURTS.

CIRCUIT COURT—UPTON, J.

SATURDAY, Nov. 1, 1873

J. M. Crawford vs A. Tomlinson; cause dismissed without prejudice, at costs of plaintiff.

State of Oregon vs. Robert Bruce, sentence of defendant postponed until next Friday.

Jacob Kamm vs Benj. Stark et al.; suit in equity for injunction, stay of proceedings granted, and cause to be heard on the 8th inst. for final injunction.

Mary L. Switzle vs. John Switzle et al.; default of John Switzle and George W. Force, and referred to F. R. Strong.

Charles Warren vs. C. C. Way et al.; confirmation of Sheriff's sale in Washington County confirmed.

James Steel, Administrator, vs. C. Beal et al.; demurrer to complaint overruled, and allowed until Monday to answer.

C. Beal vs. A. Myers, demurrer overruled, and that plaintiff have until the next term of this Court to reply, or, if he choose, to stand by his demurrer.

C. S. Schenck vs O. B. and A. B. Gibson, demurrer to answer overruled.

C. S. Schenck vs O. B. and A. B. Gibson, decree of foreclosure granted.

Court took a recess until Monday morning.

DRAMATIC AND MUSICAL.

The Rosedale Dramatic Troupe, under the management of Mr. Robert Fulford, returned from the Sound on Saturday, after a successful professional tour.

The dramatic critic for the Los Angeles Star must be a "lightning striker." In a late issue of that journal he says: "Don't forget that Romeo and Juliet will be played at the Merced Theater for the benefit of the charming soubriquet actress, Miss Carrie Lipsis." Soubriquet actress is a most charming expression. Miss Lipsis' Portland friends have reason for self-congratulation.

An Australian paper of the 30th of August says "Mrs. F. M. Bates was playing a good engagement at the Theatre Royal. She took her benefit and made her last appearance but one on August 19th. 'The Lady of Lyons' was played, with Mrs. Bates as Pauline, and the sentimental though slightly 'dodgy' Mr. Bates, on this occasion (only), appeared and played Claude Melnotte." This last (intended) complimentary mention of Mr. Bates is rather muddy.

BUSINESS NOTICES.

T. Rodgers is out in a card to those in want of Boots and Shoes. He is so well known that we only refer to his card and that is sufficient.

Look out for the advertisement of the Domestic Sewing Machine. What you want to know about it you can learn from Mr. Horne the agent.

It is truly wonderful what a number of new and handsome buildings have been constructed the past year, among which we may note that of Parrish's, where Messrs. Jos. Kohn & Co. are located. They have an elegant establishment, elegant goods, sell at low prices, and accommodating clerks wait upon the numerous customers. See their special elsewhere.

The variety of Foreign and Domestic Fruits to be seen at B. ASCHENHEIM'S 120 First Street, is immense for this time of the year. Go and see it.

FASHION NOTES.

White sealskin is a new fur which will be much worn.

Marine blue is one of the fashionable colors for the winter.

The fashionable umbrella is more attenuated than ever.

Monograms on note paper have gone completely out of fashion.

Dressmakers and milliners report their business entirely unaffected by the financial crisis.

The Elizabethan ruffs are assuming proportions more ponderous and awe-inspiring than ever.

Ladies just returned from Europe wear the hair very plain and long on the neck, a style "all the rage" in Paris.

The blue colors with white spots, so much worn during the summer, still continue in favor in heavier materials.

Sealskin will be as fashionable next winter as ever. The sealskin muffs are almost square in shape, and lined with blue satin.

Fringes are to be very fashionable as trimmings this winter. They are assuming a size and weight dangerous to the community.

War against gilt and imitation jewelry continues furiously. As a result very little of it is worn now by would be fashionable ladies.

English walking jackets have been introduced for the winter. They are of heavy dark cloth and very stylish, as well as comfortable.

Is it or is it not, significant—the fact that a beautifully gotten-up brandy flask appears upon the toilette tables of so many belles of New York's best society?

Kid gloves of invisible colors have been introduced, to be worn with dark costumes of corresponding hues. There are fifty or more different colors, the new "black-blue" included.

Brussels thread-net is the material of which the new Spanish veils are made. It is cut in the three-cornered style and edged with Chantilly lace. They are very showy and becoming.

VANCOUVER ITEMS.

The annual school meeting for the election of district officers throughout the Territory will take place next Friday.

The election of city fathers occurs on next Monday. There is but little excitement over it, no nominations having been made.

An attempt to burn Kress & Co.'s mill, a few evenings since, was nipped in the bud by the timely discovery of the fire by one of the proprietors.

The Sisters' Fancy Fair, which closed on Thursday evening last, was well attended and financially a success, the net proceeds being about $1,350.

The public schools of this city closed yesterday (Friday) sine die. They will probably open again soon if a principal teacher can be employed that will "fill the bill."

The bricklayers have nearly completed their work on the Sisters' building. The tin is on the roof of the east and west wings, and the north wing will soon be ready for it.

GENERAL NOTES.

A Connecticut thief who stole a farmer's watermelons, sent the seeds back in a letter, requesting him to plant them for next season.

Accuracy is desirable. But the Indiana editor who quoted a familiar campmeeting hymn as follows: "Ten thousand thousand (10,000,000) are their tongues, But all their joys are one (1)," carried his love of accuracy to excess.

A gay bachelor of Dalton, Mass., having reached the age of 103, and sown his wild oats, has announced his resolve to marry and settle down to a steady life, and is accordingly beginning to look about him among the village maidens of his own age.

A Morgan county, Ill., girl, who was married a day or two since, got breakfast, dinner and supper, scrubbed the house and did other house-work on the day of her wedding. She was sitting at the supper-table when the minister called to perform the ceremony.

An exchange tells the story of the Dubuque bank defalcation in a few words: "A Dubuque cashier 'embezzled'—that's the word where a man steals enough to make it respectable—$207,000. The reason he didn't take more was because the President stole the rest of it."

The fastest train on the English railway is the Great Western Express between Paddington depot in London, and Exeter. Its average rate of speed is 45 64-100 miles per hour; but between Paddington and Swindon, it travels at the rate of 53 62-100 miles per hour, including the stopping.

A Missouri farmer had a peach tree which bore a deep red Indian peach. He dug up and transplanted this tree to a different locality and soil, and the fruit it produces now is changed into a white plum. Can any of our fruit growers satisfactorily account for this change? Is it a mere freak of nature, or based upon fixed laws of soil and location?

CLOTHE YOURSELF.—Now is the time to make a purchase of winter clothing. If you have not done so make it a point to consult J. KOHN & CO., who are able to show you the finest assortment of goods ever displayed in this city. They have the largest store and are thus enabled to lay in an immense stock. There is no denying the fact. You need not hesitate about prices as they have put the figures down to allow but a small margin to themselves. The place is opposite the National Bank.

Don't go home to-night without having previously made arrangements with John O'Neil & Co. to do up a fall suit in their own peculiar style, which is quite popular, as the elegant suits daily seen on the streets from this house will attest. Mr. Scharf, of the firm, has been to San Francisco. That is sufficient. Be sure to call and select from the latest arrivals, which are new and novel. The place is 90 First street.

At Olympia.

Mr OLIVER DENNIE, the Photographic Artist, has leased the Gallery at Olympia for several weeks and will furnish the citizens at that place with Pictures of a superior style.

Emil, Lowenstein & Co., recently burned out by the great fire, have removed their Stock of Carpets, Curtains, Coverings, etc to No. 87 FRONT STREET, between Washington and Alder, where they can be found, selling off the entire Stock AT COST, in order to start soon in new quarters with an Entire New Stock. All persons indebted to them are requested to call at their temporary place of business and settle up.

"DISCRETION is the better part of valor," but all are not discreet. When attacked by diseases of the kidneys or urinary organs take the great diuretic, HELMBOLD'S BUCHU. It is warranted. Beware of worthless imitations. The genuine may be known by the private proprietary stamp of H. T. Helmbold on each bottle. John F. Henry, New York, Sole Agent.

AN EXTENDED POPULARITY.—Each year finds "BROWN'S BRONCHIAL TROCHES" in new localities in various parts of the world. For relieving Coughs, Colds and Throat Diseases, the Troches have been proved reliable.

The season for coughs and colds is rapidly approaching and every one should be prepared to check the first symptoms, as a cough contracted between now and Christmas frequently lasts all winter. There is no better remedy than Johnson's Anodyne Liniment. For all diseases of the throat and lungs it should be used internally and externally.

Lung fever, common cold, catarrhal fever, and nasal discharge of a brownish color in horses may be checked at once by liberal use of Sheridan's Cavalry Condition Powders.

Help the Torpid Organs.

When the body is in a state of health, the food taken into the stomach acts on the bowels as a stimulant, causing in them that vermicular motion by which their contents are expelled. The liver being in a natural condition, the flow of bile, which is a mild cathartic, into the intestines is ample and regular, and hence the discharges are [illegible] sufficiently frequent. The [illegible] costiveness and the only true method of cure is to restore the functional activity of the two important organs which use the bowels as a sewer for the egress of waste matter. For this purpose Hostetter's Stomach Bitters can be confidently recommended as the most effective of all medicines. It is not too much to say that chronic constipation would be unknown if the Bitters were in universal use as a remedy in the earlier stages of the complaint. At this period of the year, when dyspepsia with all its kindred disorders are so apt to be engendered and aggravated by the dampness of the atmosphere this unequaled stimulant, tonic and alterative should be taken daily.

COOS BAY ITEMS.

From our Empire City correspondent under date of Oct. 29th:

Coos county has gone for Nesmith. The vote was light.

Our merchants are laying in large stocks in anticipation of a lively trade this winter.

Messrs. Lockhart, Moody & Co. have sold the Eagle mine to Potts & Clayton, of White Pine.

Another paper is talked of. It is to be Republican in politics. When it will appear I cannot say.

D. Morse, Jr., has been appointed U. S. Commissioner, and W. F. Hill, U. S. Deputy Marshal, both for this District.

The Marshfield Hook and Ladder Company added quite a sum to their treasury by the ball given last Saturday evening.

The machinery of the wrecked tug Fearless has been removed from that vessel and will probably be used in another steamer.

Several of our citizens have gone to Portland as witnesses in the case of J. L. Henderson, of this county, who is held on a charge of perjury. The case is to be tried in Judge Deady's Court.

The steamer Eastport brought thirty passengers on her last trip. This is about the average number. Capt. Charles Butler, of the Gussie, has assumed command of this steamer vice Paton resigned.

The new steamer for the Coos Bay and San Francisco trade, is now at San Francisco receiving her engines. She is called the Empire City, and was built at Port Madison, W. T. I shall refer to her again.

If you are contemplating a purchase of clothing bear in mind one thing, and that is, to buy a good article and at the same time to pay a low price for it. BECK & WALDMAN, the popular clothiers, sell the best, charge a low price and always keep a large stock. Their stock of youth's clothing is not to be excelled anywhere. Parents should remember this.

MARY AND I.

"Twas evening in May, and the soft zephyr sighed
Through branches low bending above
My Mary and I, as we wander'd along,
And whisper'd of beauty and love.
"We'll make us a nest like the birdlings," I said.
"And never shall part any more."
"Oh yes," she replied, "and can furnish it nice,
At HURGREN & SHINDLER'S STORE."

"Fair creature, there's many a wealthier man
Would gladly have you for a bride,
But no one can love you more fondly than I—
My treasure, my beauty, and pride!
Oh, had I a mansion, with carpets of gold
And silver, I'd cover the floor!"
But, smiling, she said, "You can purchase the best
AT HURGREN & SHINDLER'S STORE."

"I'll spread you a couch upon which to recline
When evening shall call us to rest
Of the fleeciest down"—but" she said with a sigh,
"I like a hair mattress the best."
"Then so it shall be, love, and tables inlaid,
And seats from some far distant shore."
"Oh no," she exclaimed, "They have elegant sets
AT HURGREN & SHINDLER'S STORE."

"But, Mary, alas, I must sadly confess
My means are but slender as yet;
To furnish a house in the style you demand
Would hopelessly plunge me in debt—
To ask you to share my poor lodgings and board
Is something that I should deplore."
She said with a smile, "You can buy very cheap
At HURGREN & SHINDLER'S STORE."

"To-morrow, then, love let us journey along
To the corner of Alder and Front street—
"Tis numbers 98 and 100, (river side,)
Where lovers so happily meet,
How many fond souls might be severed for years
From those they so fondly adore,
Were it not for the beautiful furniture they have,
AT HURGREN & SHINDLER'S STORE.

They have marble top bureaus and elegant sets
Of bedroom furniture new,
With centre tables and what nots and mirrors great,
And an endless variety of chairs, not a few.
They do a cash business and with money in hand
To purchase every style of furniture lower,
Are able to supply all the public demand
AT HURGREN & SHINDLER'S STORE.

We went, Mary and I, and can I ever forget
The pleasure that beamed in her face
As she gazed at the marvels of beauty displayed
In HURGREN & SHINDLER'S place!
We furnished our home in an elegant style,
Been married a twelve month or more,
And Mary is singing the song to her [illegible]

MONDAY MORNING, NOVEMBER 3, 1873

GUESTS

You chide me that with self absorbed rapt eyes
I seem to walk apart nor care to clasp
Familiar hands once dear like one whose house
Filled with the guests of her own choosing, rings
With sounds of gladness yet who steals away
Up to some silent chamber of her own
Forgetful of the duties of a host.

But is not she
The truest and most hospitable friend
Who noting suddenly among her guests
An unexpected comer, one to whom
She fain would show high honor and respect
Hastens away with busy feet awhile
To throw wide open to the sun and air
Some long untenanted fair chamber rich
With storied heirlooms of her ancestors
Bright with long windows looking toward the sun
Waiting but for an occupant

Even so
Have I but stolen quietly away
Within the happy silence of my heart
A lovely sunny chamber to prepare
For a new-comer and the one to whom
I fain would show such honor and respect
Dear, unkind friend, who chides me is—yourself.

JOAQUIN MILLER'S NEW BOOK OF POEMS

[Correspondence of N. Y. Evening Post.]

BOSTON, October 17.—Of the books to be published from here in the next few days I have before me the advance sheets of half a dozen. One of these is the American edition of Joaquin Miller's new volume of poems.

His harshest critics cannot fail to see some improvement in this over his "Songs of the [illegible]," though they may note not a few of his [illegible] and crudities. Though—taking [illegible] perhaps from Charles Reade—he has roundly berated some of his critics, he has [illegible] from them. In the first half of the book is the narrative poem of "The [illegible] the A[illegible]," and the last half is occupied by poems of various lengths, arranged in five parts, [illegible] entitled "From Sea to Sea," "By the Sundown Seas," "In the Indian [illegible]," "Olive Leaves," and "Fallen [illegible]." The songs of "The Isles of the Amazons" are also arranged in parts, and each of the [illegible] parts of the book is preceded by a little poem as a sort of suggestive introduction to [illegible] following. And perhaps these [illegible] will be regarded by many of Joaquin Miller's readers as the daintiest and [illegible] of his work. Witness the following, which is printed in italics on the page preceding the poems gathered under the title of [illegible]

[illegible] the Delaware'
[illegible] fell in battle front
[illegible] nobler far than I
[illegible] of all gentleness,
[illegible] I have but this to give
[illegible] the rich man's ghostly stone
[illegible] all my follies loving still
[illegible] may, I shall not forget
[illegible] mine, and fading eyes
[illegible] another land.
[illegible] things, a song for Peace
[illegible] for men one song for God
[illegible] blessed mother, Death, bent
[illegible] I you were born to Him.

[illegible] are but six or eight [illegible] they are sufficient to show that [illegible] man's mind are nobler thoughts [illegible] his wild, sensuous realistic [illegible] would indicate. He has [illegible] text-books were Byron and the [illegible] indicate somewhat how sin[illegible] he has studied the best of the [illegible] of the Am[illegible]" is the best [illegible] has yet written. Its style is [illegible] his coloring is not so gorgeous as that of his first poems [illegible] and more refined. Some one [illegible] and so improved the char[illegible]. It is hardly worth while [illegible] the [illegible] marked in a [illegible] the English reviews, at the [illegible] of the book in London, [illegible] of the work. Miller [illegible] his [illegible] course in England [illegible] led to own style that Byron is [illegible] as well as [illegible].

[illegible] the annexed, [illegible] was a ripple of [illegible] which could not very [illegible] the parties were here, but is [illegible] rear of the hotel caught fire [illegible] but it was high for [illegible] in through the windows [illegible] of the hotel badly [illegible] two young girls and an [illegible] down to play cha[illegible] out with the Fair and [illegible] as they got out of their [illegible] going up on the [illegible] way, in elegant confusion [illegible] talking [illegible] laughing a little. Presently [illegible] in the hall, and then the en[illegible] and then they all [illegible] to [illegible] then the old party went to [illegible] what on [illegible] all the fuss [illegible] an awful gust came full [illegible] with a dreadful [illegible] she had suddenly made [illegible] up the ghost, and nothing [illegible] her [illegible] in my soul the tavern's afire! [illegible] and let's clear before the [illegible] thick enough to cut. The [illegible] like a torch in a London [illegible] coughed and spat, and got [illegible] the first clothes they [illegible] on, for they couldn't see, [illegible] poured in worse then ever, [illegible] snorted and grunted [illegible] and above all the [illegible] could be heard in the [illegible] chickens to follow her [illegible] your fixin's, gals, come right [illegible] sir, I swow I'm not going [illegible] to be burned to death. Well I m[illegible] the old lady put down stairs which [illegible] her up [illegible] in the office [illegible] of your fellows up to [illegible] down them gals. They'll be [illegible] shootin'!" [illegible] for a circus! [illegible] on in the world over and [illegible] was a bonnet. She had [illegible] for the fair, and she would [illegible] there up in the smoke and [illegible] rather than left that bonnet to [illegible] on duty of the house explained [illegible] the true state of the case, and then es[illegible] up in the elevator. The alarm over [illegible] the old lady [illegible] her situation, for she [illegible] to the young night clerk as [illegible] heavenward [illegible] man, please turn your head t'other [illegible] to receive company." He did so of course and when the old lady [illegible] No. — she found all serene there. The fire was out and the smoke was out but [illegible] all right—they were in bed and [illegible] like mad at the old lady as she said "It's all over, gals, but I think in my soul [illegible] fellow in the mustash had a looked at [illegible] comin' up in that figger, I'd a just [illegible], I vow I never felt so scared in my [illegible] day."

OUR HUGE TELESCOPE.—A Washington dispatch of the 22d ult says: The great telescope for the naval observatory, which was shipped [illegible] by sea on Saturday last has the [illegible] object-glass in the world and [illegible] has proved to be a perfect su[illegible]. There is [illegible] uneasiness at the fact that it is a day overdue. It has not yet been de[illegible] whether it will be brought by rail [illegible] Baltimore, or around by water. Anxiety at the observatory is [illegible] for fear it will not be brought through without accident. The new [illegible] is ready for it. The instruments to be used in the observation of the transit of Venus are nearly all ready. The parties who are to have charge of our expedition are now engaged in setting up two field observatories such as will be used on the stations for preliminary practice.

A NOBLE SACRIFICE.—Among the first who [illegible] to the relief of the Shreveport suffer[illegible] was a beautiful young lady of Philadelphia who was willing to brave even the terror of death to give aid and comfort to the helpless victims of a terrible scourge. She was Agnes, the daughter of a United States naval officer [illegible], and was adopted by S and Agnes Arnold of Philadelphia when scarcely three years old. At Shreveport her noble bravery and devotion gained for her the title of Angel Agnes. One night, while walking with a sick child in her arms she fell down a stairway and [illegible] her spine, and died in great agony. Only a few days previous her intended husband [illegible] had followed her to Shreveport, [illegible]

The fact that banks and capitalists are refusing accommodation to many who cannot carry on a large business with their own means, is the subject of some complaint, though it is claimed as the only safe policy for the banks to pursue. Commercial [illegible] however are meeting with quite favorable consideration in so far as circumstances will permit. The manufacturing interests are also being fairly dealt with.

According to the [illegible] improvement [illegible] [illegible] upon [illegible] for any [illegible] renewal of commercial activity. The Banks report a further gain of legal tenders, and those having extensive connections out of town are also in receipt of considerable amounts of national bank currency which at the present time are almost as acceptable as greenbacks. The Associated Banks on Monday voted to repeal so much of the resolution which authorized Loan Certificates as directed their retirement November 1, so that there is now no limit to the time which they may run.

A Washington dispatch on the 17th says: It is believed that a slight relief to business in Western and Southern cities will be afforded by the nearly three million dollars to which the National Banks of those sections are entitled. The amount of fifty four million additional circulation provided by act of July 12, 1870, still remains to be distributed. The limit of time within which banks that have subscribed for it must take it will expire to-morrow. If they don't take it up the Comptroller will give it to other banks, which have applied for it.

Grain Reports

From the Chicago Journal of Commerce, the leading authority on such matters in the West, we collate the following in reference to the condition of the grain supply of the world at the latest dates:

Chicago elevators at the commencement of business Monday, the 20th ult., contained 4 440,928 bushels of grain, embracing 662 272 bushels of wheat, 2,871 6?2 bushels of corn, 442 16? bushels of oats, [illegible] 1?1 bushels of rye and 442,318 bushels of barley against 4,907 778 bushels one week ago and 4 948 761 bushels at this period last year.

Milwaukee warehouses at the close of business on the same day contained 629 039 bushels of wheat, 27 807 bushels of corn, 50 006 bushels of oats, 27 345 bushels of rye, and 8 603 bushels of barley.

The amount of wheat in Buffalo at the same time was 18?,000 bushels of corn, 380 500 bushels of oats, 106,000 bushels and of barley 62 000 bushels.

New York warehouses contain 1 3?7 000 bushels of wheat, 2,550,000 bushels of corn, 234 000 bushels of oats, 46,000 bushels of rye, 3 600 bushels of barley and 51 000 bushels of malt.

The visible supply of grain in the United States and Canada, October 11, was: Wheat, 9 196,300 bushels; corn, 12,642 088 bushels; oats, 2 332 195 bushels; barley, 1 4?1,867 bushels; rye, 341 403 bushels.

The exports of breadstuffs and provisions from the ports of Portland, Boston, New York, Philadelphia, and Baltimore for the week ending October 18th were: Flour, 6 670 barrels; wheat, 1 019 776 bushels; corn, 301,489 bushels; rye, 71 676 bushels.

The stock of flour and grain in London, October 1, 1873: Flour, 98 827 bbs and 45 351 sacks; 232,866 qrs wheat, 67 974 qrs maize, 189 265 qrs oats, and 8,820 qrs barley.

Advices from Adelaide, South Australia, under date of August 12 reports the exports of wheat and flour from that port for four weeks at 10 111 tons, and the total for thirty-one weeks ended August 2d 141 000 tons. The exports to Great Britain in thirty one weeks had been 196,002½ qrs of wheat and 10,634½ tons of flour. It was estimated that there was still an available surplus for export of 30 000 to 35 000 tons, equal to 1,166,666 bushels. The crops everywhere in the colony were looking magnificent, and if there shall be an average yield the result of this harvest will, it is estimated, be much in excess of last year, as there is a large increase in the acreage under wheat. The price of wheat there was 5s 8d@5s 9d per [illegible].

In France the weather at latest mail advices had been favorable for the prosecution of agricultural operations, and everywhere the sowing of wheat and rye was progressing, which had checked the marketing of grain, as farmers were too busy with the sowing of grain and the vintage to attend much to the threshing and delivery of grain. Prices however in the reports from 54 markets were lower in twenty, downward tendency in 5, quiet in 7, no change in 15, firm in 3, and an improvement in 4 of 25 to 50 centimes.

The stock of wheat in Marseilles on the 26th ult. 11 415 quintals of 220½ lbs avoirdupois each. The imports of wheat at that port for the week ended September 27th were 183,900 quintals of 220½ lbs each, against 46 000 quintals for the corresponding week in 1872. The imports from August 1 to September 27, 1873, have been 967 000 quintals against 408,000 quintals for the corresponding period in 1872. There are a very considerable number of cargoes of wheat on passage from the Black and Azov seas for Marseilles, as some seventeen vessels grain laden have passed the Dardanelles, bound for that port.

The arrivals of wheat at Dantzig, Germany, had been fair, and prices had in consequence declined 2s per qr in the week for spot. At Hamburg there was also a decline of 1s to 2s per qr on wheat. At Leipzig wheat was lower.

At Genoa, Italy, September 20, there was very little wheat in port, none in warehouse or on passage, and prices were stiff, the millers here relying on interior supplies from the home crop.

At Galatz, Roumania, there had on the 2d ult. been a rise of water in the Danube sufficient to liberate considerable grain that had been detained up the river by low water, and the supply of wheat at Ibrail was liberal, and prices easier. The maize crop is 50 per cent. under an average. No spot supply to market.

The supplies of grain at Pesth, Hungary, continue quite large.

At Taganrog, south of Russia, port of Azov Sea, the supply of wheat Sept. 20 was about 5 760 qrs daily, or 40,820 qrs equal to 322,560 bush per week.

The official report of the area of the crops in Ireland in 1873, as compared with 1872, gives a decrease of 36 859 acres of wheat, 114 022 acres of oats, bere and rye, 735 acres of potatoes. There is an increase in barley of 11,175 acres, beans and peas 1 051 acres, turnips 1 293 acres, mangel and beet roots 3 850 acres, carrots, parsnips and green crops 418 acres, flax 7 440 acres, meadow and clover 37 210 acres. There is a total increase in all crops of 61 837 acres.

Wool Market.

For some days past advices from the East have indicated low activity in this commodity, owing no doubt to the very serious embarrassments which have been thrown around the manufacturing interests by the financial troubles, many of the large establishments having suspended operations temporarily because of their inability to secure the accommodations necessary to carry on their business. The following dispatch of yesterday shows no better state of feeling:

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. [illegible].—The Wool market flat. No 1 Colorado washed 26@28; Colorado unwashed 18@20; extra and merino pulled [illegible]; No 1 and superfine pulled 38@40c; Texas fine and medium [illegible]; Texas coarse 28c; California fine and medium 28@30c; California coarse 26@28.
